FORTY-SECOND YEAR

MARTIN, TENN. . WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1970

VOLUME 121

Miss UTM-1970—Queen Linda Spence, a freshman from Memphis, was crowned Saturday night.

Miss UTM-1970 Is Crowned

"This is the dawning... the Age of Aquarius" was the theme of the Miss UTM Pageant held last Friday and Saturday nights with Linda Spence crowned as Queen for 1970.

SPONSORED annually by the Student Government Association, the Pageant involved scores of students and administrative personnel as well as participants and sponsoring organizations.

Highlighted by evening gown, swimsuit and talent competition, the field of 29 contestants was narrowed to the top ten on Saturday night. Following individual talent and swimsuit competition, emcee Dick Hawley of WMC-TV in Memphis announced the five finalists.

Miss Spence, an 18-year-old freshman majoring in music education and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, was sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity.

Lexicographer Speaks Tonight

Professor F.G. Cassidy, from the University of Wisconsin, will be on campus Wednesday night at 7:00 in the Humanities Building auditorium to speak to students.

Cassidy, a famous linguist and lexicographer, is presently at work on the Dictionary of American Regional English (DARE).

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Janet Marie Porter of Alamo, a 19-year-old freshman majoring in liberal arts, was selected first runner-up. Miss Porter was sponsored by Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

SECOND RUNNER-UP was Judith Carol Hansford of Halls, a 22-year-old senior majoring in music education. A member of the Choralairs and the Opera Workshop, she was sponsored by Clement Hall.

Also selected as finalists in the pageant were Donna Cody of Paris, an 18-year-old freshman majoring in education, and Donna Reece of Alamo, a 20-year-old junior home economics major.

MISS Cody was sponsored by McCord B Hall.

Miss Reece was sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi.

Fine Arts Begins Monday

Fine Arts Week which will be held beginning Monday thru April 20th has been organized to promote student talent in three fields of the fine arts, art, music, and literature. It has a different meaning for everyone.

"The Fine Arts Committee recognizes there is talent on this campus and by using students and faculty it hopes to present the very best," commented Carol Ingram. Fine Arts Week is divided into four major parts. The first is a combination of art, music, and literature. To show how the three are related, Herb Stonebrook

Self-Regulated Hours for Some

Women's Dorm Hours Extended

Closing hours for occupants of women's residence halls have been extended to give later sign-in time for some and limited self-regulated hours for others.

FOLLOWING action of the University Council, Dean of Women Billie Ann Pace announced the following schedule of closing hours for all women students:

Freshmen women - Monday-Thursday, 11:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 1:00 p.m.; Sunday, 12:00 midnight.

SOPHOMORE, junior and senior women - Monday-Thursday, 11:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, self-determined hours for students under 21 years with parental permission; Sunday, 12:00 midnight.

Women at least 21 years - Monday-Thursday, 11:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, self-determined; Sunday, 12:00 midnight.

WOMEN desiring to participate in self-regulated hours may secure a registration card from her counselor, complete the information required, and return it with a $1.00 registration fee covering the night clerk's salary, to the counselor, the main desk of her hall, or the Dean of Women.

The fee is required because there is no money allotted for this purpose in the University's budget. According to Dean Pace, the fee will, more than likely, be abolished next year.

A WOMAN may register as soon as she reaches her 21st birthday. The Dean of Women's office will notify the hall hostess of the woman's eligibility.

Sophomore, junior and senior women who have not reached their 21st birthday will fill out the registration card and pay the fee. The Dean of Women's office will correspond with the parents and will notify the hall hostess when a parent permission is received and the woman is eligible.

COEDS will sign out as usual. A night clerk will keep a list of the eligible women who will have to check with him as they enter the hall. Each coed must sign in by 9:00 a.m. each morning.

Later weeknight permission went into effect last night, and the Dean of Women's office plans to put self-regulated hours for women 21 years and older into effect this weekend.

SWITCHBOARDS in the dorms will close at 11:00 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 1:00 a.m. Saturday and Sunday mornings, and 12:00 p.m. Sunday night.

Ray Charles To Perform Next Wednesday

Ray Charles, a giant to jazz and soul music, will perform in concert on April 15 at 8 p.m. in the Field House.

SPONSORED by the Student Government Association, the concert is open to the public. Tickets are $3.00 in advance and $4.00 at the door, and may be purchased in Martin at the University Center and the Collegiate Shop, in Paris at Southern Music, and in Union City at Bennett's, Southern Music, and Whitby's Music.

An accomplished musician, Ray Charles taught himself to play and write for every brass and wind instrument in an orchestra. Specializing in piano, organ, and saxophone, he composes, arranges, and performs his own music.

"I TRY to bring out my soul so people can understand what I am," Charles commented. "I want people to hear and feel my soul, the kind of soul you can take from a song and make a part of you. It's the feeling that's so true, so real, people think it must have happened to you. It's like electricity, like a spirit, a drive, a power."

For 20 years Ray Charles has reached out, touching all people despite language, cultural, and educational barriers. He has drawn from all the musical streams—pop, rhythm and blues, rock, country and western—synthesizing his own element music.

BLIND since the age of four, Charles formed his acquaintance with the piano on a neighbor's front porch. At St. August-tine's School for the Deaf and Blind in Orlando, Florida, he learned to read and write braille and to play a limited classical repertoire on the piano.

Refusing to let his handicap limit him, Charles played with several dance bands while developing his own distinctive style and a wide following.

Dorm Residents To Be Polled

A survey is being conducted this week in Clement and Elington Halls to poll student opinion concerning theft, vandalism, and disciplinary actions and penalties.

The poll sheets, put out yesterday and due by Friday were sent to the two particular dorms because they reportedly have the highest number of incidents of this type.

Residents of the two halls are requested to complete the sheets and to use the spaces for comments if desired.

Change Of Mood May Be Apparent

The two most encompassing movements on campuses across the nation are scheduled back-to-back this month.

NEXT WEEK, the Vietnam Moratorium Committee plans to sponsor a two-prong protest against continued U.S. presence in Southeast Asia.

The week of the 22nd, various environmental-minded organizations are planning to participate in the First National Environmental Teach-in.

THESE TWO WEEKS will be a test of strength for the older Moratorium movement and the more recent environmentalists. The ecology groups have had the headlines during the past few months. The moratorium people faded after the mass protests of late last year.

A recent Moratorium newsletter summed up the recent anti-Vietnam activities in one sentence: "After many months of low-key, grassroots organizing against the war, we feel it is time to begin intensive preparation for the protests of April 13-15."

THE EMPHASIS is not on mass rallies and marches like last year, but on a Peace Fast and a taxpayer's protest.

From Monday, April 13, through Wednesday, April 15, supporters of the movement will not eat. Instead, the money not used will be sent to a Peace Fast Fund. The Moratorium organizers hope to "force the nation to face the moral issues of people dying and suffering as well as how it affects us in dollars and cents. The two go very much together."

THE ENVIRONMENTAL TEACH-IN will follow the Moratorium activities by a week. Will it be more than just a chronological successor? Plans are already being made on campus for participation in E-(for ecology) Day. If there has been a change of mood in this country, it will soon be apparent.

Election Entries Due Today

Final deadline for entry into the 70-71 Student Government elections is set for 5 p.m. today with the elections slated for April 20 and 22.

FIVE OFFICES will be open - President, Vice-President, and Secretaries of Finance, Communications, and Affairs. In order to be qualified, each candidate must submit a petition including the names of at least 25 students.

Each candidate must also have six quarters or 90 hours at UTM as well as an overall grade point average of 2.25.

Spring Schedules Are Late?

The spring schedule of classes arrived March 25, during spring break. According to Wayne Tansil, Public Relations director, this was two days earlier than they were expected. The bulletins were printed by the UT press at Knoxville.

"IF WE HAD known there would be this delay, we probably wouldn't have tried them," Dean of Admissions Henry C. Allison commented.

Dr. Norman Campbell, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, gathers the course offerings from the various departments, approves them, and sends them to Dean Allison who includes registration information. The material is then sent to Tansil who has the re-

Last night, the National Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences presented the 42nd Academy Awards ceremony. The stars, film, writer, and directors now have their Oscars.

FILM CRITICS put their careers on the line at this time of year by predicting winners of the coveted statue. Since this article was written a few days before the Oscar ceremonies, it might be fun to predict the outcome and see how far it strays from last night's selection.

The voters of the Academy are slushily sentimental. Since John Wayne's incredibly long movie career sans a single Oscar received is a tear jerker, he won for Best Actor last night. His role in "True Grit" had little if anything to do with his selection. Dustin Hoffman and Jon Voight of "Midnight Cowboy" cancelled each other out for Best Actor award. "Goodby, Mr Chips" received very bad notices and prevented Peter O'Toole's winning. "Anne of the Thousand Days" came in seven days under the wire-just in time to be considered for nomination. Since the Academy doesn't care for such scheduling, it is doubtful star Richard Burton won.

JAN FONDA probably blew her chance for Best Actress Award in "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" because of her recent crusades for the American Indian. Commendable, but the Academy voters are stuffy about such matters. Maggie (See Page 9, Col. 1)

Publications Board Approves Spirit Proposals

The Publications Board approved several changes concerning the operation of the school yearbook, the "Spirit", during a scheduled meeting last Wednesday afternoon.

THE PROPOSALS WERE put forward by English professor Neil Graves, advisor for the 1970 "Spirit", and Spirit editor Rusty Farrell.

The Board approved the recommendation that each staff begin work spring quarter rather than in the fall. Because of publishing details, spring activities are included in the following year's annual.

THE BOARD ALSO RAISED the yearly salaries for the editor (from $450 to $800), the two associate editors (from $300 to $375), and the business manager (from $680 to an estimated $742). The salaries will be paid on a quarterly basis.

Also approved was the disassociation of the yearbook's technical operations from the University Public Relations office. The move will allow the yearbook business manager to deal directly with University business manager Gene Stanford, and will give the yearbook the opportunity to get photographs from outside sources as well as Public Relations.

THE 1971 SPIRIT STAFF was nominated and selected: Rusty Farrell, Editor-in-Chief; Roy Harris, business manager; and Jane Harris and Mary Pat Moody, Associate Editors.

and faculty work. These entries have been judged by a selected committee. Thursday afternoon the City of Martin Fine Arts with Max Pentecost as chairman has secured a group of puppeteers for a performance.

Friday, Scotty Ledford will be utilizing student talent in poetry, drama, folk and short stories. On April 20, the U T Knoxville Percussion Ensemble will perform at 8 p.m. and will have a workshop at 4 p.m.

Other events will occur during this week, but the Fine Arts Committee is only responsible for the above activities. These activities will take place in the conference room in the University Center from 7:30-10:30.

The Art division for Fine Arts Week has extended to Monday the deadline for work in that category.

representatives from the "Spirit" and "Volette" staffs was approved. One member from each publication will be added as a voting member after selection by the publication staff and approval by the chancellor.

MEMBERS PRESENT during the meeting were Board chairman and Director of Public Relations Wayne Tansil; University Business Manager Gene Stanford; Mr. Graves; Chancellor Archie Dykes; Business Law instructor Robert Hearn; Dean of the School of Business Administration William Baker; Volette advisor and Professor of Journalism Carl H. Giles; SG Secretary of Communications Bill Rosson; and SG Secretary of Finance Nell Moody.

Also present were "Spirit" editor Rusty Farrell, "Spirit" associate editor Jane Harris, and "Volette" co-editor Bill Cate.

Character Sketch

by Potti Field

His antique auto is not the only drive of his life. Steven Becker doesn't always travel in his model A Ford.

BUT HE DOES journey often and collects sundry items for his hobbies while moving about.

This busy 20-year-old junior from Manchester is Student Government Vice President. Steve first became interested in his freshman year. He also "hit the books" as he helped to move into the new library.

POLITICS prevailed as he was elected sophomore class treasurer. He continued his SG work and was in charge of Senior Day in Appreciate UTM Week last year.

This year he has served as a counselor for two quarters.

SPRING BREAK allowed free time for him to work on his many interests. His favorite hobby is his 1929 green and black model A which he keeps in good running order.

"I'm a pack rat," stated Steve who collects stamps, coins, campaign stickers, and ticket stubs.

TRAVELING is one of his past times. "I have been to every state except Alaska, Hawaii, North Dakota, and Louisiana." He travels mostly by car.

Last summer he worked as social director at school. Later, he flew to Oregon and visited his brother. While there he tried rifle and bow and arrow hunting. Some time was spent on a dude ranch where he rode horseback.

THIS SUMMER promises to be an exciting one for Steve. He will either go to Europe working and traveling or work in a hospital in the states and take a week off to visit Hawaii or Alaska.

Both Steve's parents work. His mother is a guidance counselor for county elementary schools and his father is a supervising engineer at a space institute.

HIS MAJOR is secondary education with studies in history, psychology and zoology. He spends an average of 25 hours per week on his student government responsibilities and had maintained a B average.

"I wouldn't trade it for anything," he said referring to his student government position.

AS FOR PLANS after graduation Steve comments, "If Uncle Sam doesn't get me, I plan to go to graduate school." His lottery number is 65.

'Tennessee Spirit' Undergoes Change

The alumni magazine "The Tennessee Spirit" will undergo format changes beginning with the July edition, simulating a small newspaper rather than the current slick magazine format.

THIS CHANGE IS THE result of UT alumni periodicals begun fall quarter by alumni and development members. UT president-elect Dr. Edward Boiling requested the study.

For economic reasons, the committee couldn't justify printing one magazine for each campus. Alumni directors for each campus did agree to publish a newsletter in newspaper form at about one-third the cost of present magazines. News affecting the whole system will be contained in a magazine put out by the system's staff.

CONTENT OF THE NEWSLETTERS will remain the responsibility of the alumni director of each campus: David Small, UTM; June Montgomery, Medical Units; Walt Walton, Chattanooga; and Jerry Walker, Knoxville. Stan McAnally will serve as executive director, coordinating news from all four campuses for the system's publication.

According to Small, restrictions on the "Tennessee Spirit" will result in less time spent preparing the publication with a gain in timeliness. He noted, however, that it would not offer as much space as the current edition.

THE TENNESSEE SPIRIT goes out quarterly to an estimated 5,000 alumni and friends. The cost, provided for in the University budget, amounts to $1,500 per quarter.

Dr. William Osborne, English department Chairman at Memphis State University, was guest speaker. Following his address, new officers were installed, and Mr. Ed M. Chenette, faculty advisor, announced the outstanding member for 1969, former STD president Judy Ashe.

New officers for 1970 are Rusty Farrell, president; Peggy Cannon, vice-president; Betty Martin, secretary-treasurer; Linda Richardson, historian; and Charlotte Staggs, student government representative. Also announced at the banquet were the fraternity's new co-sponsors, Mrs. Wayne Keene, and the editor of VISTA for next year, Sue Abernath.

Scholarship Chairman Carl Watson has announced that AGR was once again first in scholarship among the fraternities on campus with a 2.567 average for winter quarter.

ADPi

During spring vacation, many of the ADPi's attended the annual Tennessee State Day Convention in Memphis. Of the two awards given, Delta Upsilon received the State Efficiency Award for '69 and '70.

At the recent Panhellenic Banquet, Delta Upsilon received the Intramural Sportsmanship Trophy. Jill Collins, Neil Moody, Janet Kee, Linda Duncan, Emily Duscoe, Mary Baird and Lee Weakley received University Service Awards.

ADPi congratulates Donna Cody for being in the top five in the Miss UTM Pageant.

On April 2, an informal get-together of pledges and acglives was held for Mrs. Nancy Tinkle, who will become an honor initiate of ADPi.

AoPi

Tau Omicron was well represented in the Miss UTM Pageant by Janie Reynolds, Carol Jordan, Cindy Black, and Carol Spann, with Miss Reynolds and Jordan both semi-finalists.

Smith had a stirring performance in "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie," but it is doubtful she received the award because she is not well known in this country. "The Happy Ending" received mediocre reviews and cancelled out Jean Simmon's chances of winning. Even though "Anne of the Thousand Days" barely made it for consideration. Genevieve Bujold probably won for Best Actress. She, like Maggie Smith, is all but unknown in the States. Her film came in quite late, but still a female star of a lavish, historical drama seems to get to the hearts of the voters. Liza Minnelli in "The Sterile Cuckoo" is still not a "star" and the voters passed her by.

"BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID", which deserved the Best Picture award, did not receive it. This writer has not seen "Z" and can't guess its chances. "Midnight Cowboy" didn't receive the Oscar either. "Anne of the Thousand Days" has been guessed by many critics as the winner, but I don't think so. A film which hasn't been mentioned much, but which stands a good chance of winning, is "Hello, Dolly." It's a big, brassy musical with big brassy Oscar winner Barbara Streisand. However, none of the nominees are sure winners as was last year's magnificent "Oliver!" None measure up to the quality and enchantment of the superb Lionel Bart creation and the lovely acting of Mark Lester as "Oliver" and Jack Wild as "the Artful Dodger."

John Schlesinger might just have won as Best Director for "Midnight Cowboy." George Roy Hill ("Butch Cassidy") did a fine job, but I have a feeling this film was passed over. Sydney Pollack ("They Shoot Horses"), is a relatively new director, and was steered clear of. Arthur Penn ("Alice's Restaurant"), didn't win because the film was anti-establishment.

AS FOR THE SONGS, I can only guess by preference. Hopefully, Rod McKuen's "Jean" from "Miss Jean Brodie" won. "True Grit" is a very bad, very forgettable song. "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" has a sunshine-nice lyric and melody, but it wasn't all that memorable. "What Are You Doing The Rest of Your Life" from "The Happy Ending" has had very little exposure and stood very little chance.

I have no preference for Best Supporting Actress. It seems as though everyone would like to see Goldie Hawn win for "Cactus Flower." But this is her first big part and it's doubtful. Dyan Cannon probably won for "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice."

GIG YOUNG POSSIBLY WON for Best Supporting Actor in "They Shoot Horses." Jack Nicholson of "Easy Rider" gave a superb performance, but it was anti-establishment. The other nominees for this category seem of little concern.

Now check back in your memory to last night's outcome, and you can see why I stand a very bad chance of ever being on the Academy review board.

Spring Schedules

REFERRING TO THE delay, Allison said that the disadvantage lay in having the printer so far away.

"We were at their mercy," he commented.

HE ADDED that the University would probably use its own printing service although they are not properly equipped to handle that big a job.

The summer bulletin will be 14-16 pages longer than last year's publication. Some material is being included from the annual bulletin. It should be out in two weeks.

The annual catalog should be delivered next week.

Underwriter's Assoc. Contributes Funds

In a meeting on campus April 1, members of the Reelfoot Lake Underwriters Association contributed their first $100 toward a scholarship fund for those enrolling in the Department of Nursing.

MEMBERS of the association's scholarship committee present were Max Osborne, Jimmy Haskins, and Tommie Bynum, all of Union City. President of the organization is K.B. Ray of Union City.

Accepting the check for the University was scholarship chairman Lloyd King. Other university officials present were assistant director of development, Robert T. Meeks, Jr., and vice chancellor for academic affairs, Dr. Norman Campbell.

DR. CAMPBELL said the scholarship fund is encouraging and is evidence of the growing awareness of responsible citizens to the need for more registered nurses in the area.

The two-year program will begin fall quarter 1970. Graduates will be eligible to take the state examination for certification as an RN.

Women's Club Plans Tour

The Faculty Women's Club will sponsor a tour of the campus for the residents of Martin and the surrounding area on April 19 from 2 to 4 p.m.

The tours will begin at the University Center with members of the SG Hospitality Committee serving as guides. Faculty women will serve as hostesses in the seven buildings open for the tour.

by Nancy Sanders

Spring quarter intramurals always take advantage of the spring weather. In men's intramurals the first event is the annual handball tournament beginning next Tuesday in the men's physical education building. Competition will be held at times agreeable by both participants.

A men's tennis singles tournament is scheduled for April 15. All male students may participate except those playing varsity tennis. Registration must be made in Room 13, P.E. Building, by next Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. The intramural department will pair opponents. Each participant will be responsible for checking the Intramural Bulletin Board before the match. He must also be responsible for posting his name and score in the winner's bracket. Medals will be given to winner and runner-up in the handball and tennis tournament.

April 17, the men's open softball tournament will begin. Entries must be turned in at 5:30 April 16. Drawings will be made at this time and a representative from each team must be present. A team must have a minimum of 10 players and a maximum of 15 players. The time of games will be posted. Entry blanks can be picked up from the Intramural Bulletin Board in the new gym.

IN WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS the deadline for the completion of Round 4 in badminton was last night at 9 p.m.

At the Panhellenic Banquet awards were given to ZTA for the highest number of total points for the Winter Quarter competitions. ADPI received the sportsmanship trophy.

Registration for the women's open softball competition must be completed today. Managers are responsible for getting teams on the softball field at the scheduled game time. Failure to do so will result in forfeit. Games will be played on week days beginning at 5:05 p.m. and 6:05 p.m. Entry blanks secured from any office in the old gym must be returned today by 5 p.m. The type of tournament will depend upon the number of entries.

Tennis Team Travels To Murray

The going was rough for the tennis squad in Nashville as the team dropped two of three matches.

The Orangemen had little trouble with Fisk University on April 3 and blanked the Bulldogs 9-0. Jim Kugler and Pat Madden paced the Vols blitzing their opponents 6-0, 6-0.

However, Harding College and David Lipscomb registered back-to-back wins over the Vols. Harding defeated the Orange netters 8-1, and David Lipscomb squeaked out a 6-3 victory.

The tennis team travels to Murray State on April 8 with a season record of 2-4.

CALLED STRIKE—Senior hurler Don McDonald follows through on a called third strike against a Culver-Stockton player in the third game of a rare triple-header played at UTM on Friday.

Vols Enter VSAC With 12-4 Record

Following the busiest week in the history of baseball at UTM, the Volunteers will enter VSAC competition with a 12-4 record when they travel to Christian Brothers College tomorrow.

During the record breaking week, the Orangemen compiled ten consecutive wins, the most in a single season, and played nine games, breaking the old mark of six.

The win streak began with a 7-6 win over Livingston State on March 26 and ended with a 2-1 victory over Culver-Stockton in the last of a double-header Saturday.

In that game, a clutch single by Tommy Baker in the fifth inning scored teammate Steve Steele for the needed edge. The Vol's initial run came on a double by Tommy Thompson that brought Dick Algire home from second. Lefthander Foster Harlow claimed his second decision of the year against one loss in yielding only four hits.

In the first game, Rick Leeper gave up four hits and walked two to bring his record to 2-1 with a 3-0 shutout. A home-run by Steve Steele in the first inning and RBI's by Randy Horn and Dick Algire in the fifth and sixth innings boosted the Vols to their tenth consecutive win. Steele's round tripper was his third of the year.

Last Friday, the Orangemen posted yet another school record and possibly originated a new baseball phrase—the triple-header. The Vols posted two wins over Wisconsin State, 5-3 and 5-2, before defeating Culver-Stockton in the marathon finale 2-1. The three games were played after a double-header with Wisconsin was postponed due to inclement weather the previous day. "I believe our southern trip actually was responsible for our current success," Coach Roger Shore said. "Although we returned home with a 3-4 record, it gave me time to juggle the lineup and more of an idea on when to substitute. All of our boys are in good condition after a hectic week and we are grateful for that.

All our players have been doing a fine job," Coach Shore added, "especially our pinch hitters who have really come through for us when we needed them." After the 16-game stretch, Dick Algire leads the Vols with a .426 average. Algire is also tops in homeruns, hitting two to pull out wins in a double-header last week against Quincy College. Steve Steele is the second leading hitter for the Orangemen with a .389 mark, and Mike Fortune is third with .275.

Following the game with Christian Brothers on Thursday, the Vols will host Austin Peay State University on Saturday in a twin bill at 1 p.m.

Golf Team Defeats Ark State

The golf team boosted its season record to 5-3 by defeating Arkansas State 15 1/2-2 1/2 at the Weakley County Country Club last Thursday.

The Volunteer Linksmen defeated the Indians in a triple match with Delta State earlier in the season by a score of 10-8.

Despite the 40 degree cold and gusty winds, Jim Knott equalled par with a 72, and Ray Scott finished with a one over par 73. Overall, the teamj over par 73. Overall, the team played their best match of the young season, capturing four of six matches by blanking opponents 3-0. The team averaged 75.6 shots a man in downing the Indians.

The Vols found the going a little rougher in Memphis Monday, but the linksmen claimed wins in four of five individual matches with CBC and won four of six matches with Southwestern. Ray Scott captured medal honors with a 75 over the rough Chickasaw Country Club layout.

The Orangemen open on Friday in the Mid-South Classic at Clarksville. The two-day tournament will include a select field of 16 teams representing six states and seven conferences.
